AGENCY: National Park Service

ACTION: Notice

Notice is hereby given in accordance with provisions of the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA), 25 U.S.C. 3003(d), of the completion of an inventory of human remains from Alaska in the possession of the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago, IL.

A detailed assessment of the human remains was made by Field Museum professional staff in consultation with representatives of the Native Village of Teller.

In 1893, human remains representing two individuals were collected by Miner H. Bruce and received by the Field Museum. One individual was removed from Grantley Harbor, AK, and the second individual was removed from Port Clarence, AK. No known individuals were identified. No associated funerary objects are present.

Around 1898, human remains representing one individual were received from Miner H. Bruce by the Field Museum. This individual was a native woman from Port Clarence, AK who died at the Cook County Hospital, Chicago, IL. No known individual was identified. No associated funerary objects are present.

Accession records state these three individuals are from Grantley Harbor and Port Clarence, AK.

Based on the above mentioned information, officials of the Field Museum of Natural History have determined that, pursuant to 43 CFR 10.2 (d)(1), the human remains listed above represent the physical remains of three individuals of Native American ancestry. Officials of the Field Museum have also determined that, pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 3001 (2), there is a relationship of shared group identity which can be reasonably traced between these Native American human remains and the Native Village of Teller.

This notice has been sent to officials of the Native Village of Teller, the Teller Native Corporation, and the Bering Straits Foundation. Representatives of any other Indian tribe that believes itself to be culturally affiliated with these human remains should contact Jonathan Haas, MacArthur Curator of North American Anthropology, Field Museum of Natural History, Roosevelt Road at Lake Shore Dr., Chicago, IL 60605; telephone: (312) 922-9410, ext. 641, before July 2, 1997. Repatriation of the human remains to the Native Village of Teller may begin after that date if no additional claimants come forward.

The National Park Service is not responsible for the determinations within this notice.

Dated: May 19, 1997.
